Sympl Services

Sympl is a leading company in the field of fintech solutions and it provides an electronic platform to help merchants better manage their transactions, increase their sales through the Internet and mobile phone, as well as developing a more effective way for merchant settlement in return for goods and services sold under the agreement with e-payments service providers and a network of vendors who sell products and services to their customers and provides different means of payment and collection, in cash or on credit, in exchange for goods and services.

Terms of Use

- The merchant offers the service of buy now and pay later through Sympl only to qualified bank card holders and Sympl determines the eligibility of the customer according to its discretion at the time of purchase, with the condition that the customer meets the below criteria:
 - a) has a valid Egyptian bank card (debit or credit card).
 - b) has an Egyptian mobile number.
 - c) Has an Egyptian National ID card
 - d) purchases products/services with a minimum amount of EGP300.
- For the customer to use the buy now, pay later service with Sympl, the customer must provide his card details (credit or debit) upon checkout, based on which we will approve/reject the transaction on the spot. If approved, the customer use Sympl service and hereby agreed on the deductions of the service fee, down payment, and the due payments automatically on their due dates.
- During Sympl purchase experience, the customer enters his mobile number, his National ID card number, and chooses his preferred payment plan with a minimum of 3 payments and a maximum of 5 payments.
- Before completing Sympl's purchase experience, the customer enters the OTP sent in an SMS to his entered phone number.
- We can require a minimum down payment upon checkout, and in this case the customer has to pay the down payment with his bank card in order to complete the transaction.
- During Sympl purchase process, the customer has to pay a service fee shown in the experience and by completing the transaction, the customer agrees to deduct this amount from his bank card used to make the purchase.
- By completing the transaction, the customer is responsible to pay the transaction amount on his chosen pay later plan at the due dates shown on the mobile application. Based on this, there will be a settlement on the customer's behalf to the merchant through the payment service provider in return for goods and services bought by the customer.

- By completing the transaction, the customer accepts and agrees to these terms and conditions, and he is obligated to pay all fees and payments resulting from his purchase with Sympl.
- The customer receives a copy of Sympl's receipt from the merchant including the transaction details and the due date of the first payment.
- Once the transaction is successful, the customer receives a confirmation SMS with the transaction reference number, due payment amount, due date of the first payment, and a link to download and log in to the app. Thus, the customer has now a personal account on Sympl that he can use to view his transaction details and track his payments.
- Once the transaction is successful, the customer is responsible to view and track his payment due dates through the mobile app, and thus he must ensure that there will be a sufficient balance on his bank card at the due date of each payment so that we can automatically deduct it from the card used in the purchase.
- In case of late payments and/or irregularity in re-payment, the company has the right to deduct the total remaining dues related to the transaction without a prior notice to the customer.
